

The
SOCIETY OF WOMEN ENVIRONMENTAL PROFESSIONALS (SWEP) ROCKY MOUNTAIN CHAPTER

presents

VICKI KRAUS
of ENVIRONMENTAL TECHNICAL WRITING COMPANY, LLC

on

Writing Well to Improve your Business

Writing well is important for growing a business. A polished document shows that the author took the time to write and edit a quality product. Paying attention to details when it comes to writing will do wonders for making a person's talent shine. Having technical knowledge communicated clearly and concisely is valuable to clients.

Environmental Technical Writing Company, L.L.C. offers writing and editing support for individuals and businesses that need to complete documents in a timely manner.

TIME/DATE:

Wednesday, February 12th

12:00 to 1:00 p.m.

Check in begins at 11:45 a.m.

PLACE:

Geotech Environmental Equipment, Inc.

2650 E 40th Avenue
Denver, CO 80205

Members $15 / person ~ Non-members $25 / person
Cash or Checks at the check-in table only please

RSVP by COB February 5th

to

Mountainswep@gmail.com or Selina Koler at skoler@tristategt.org

About the speaker

Vicki Kraus has an M.A. in geography from Kansas State University and a B.A. in geography from Clark University. She has over 20 years of experience working as an environmental consultant and planner for private companies and government agencies. She has written and edited sections for Environmental Impact Statements and Environmental Assessments as well as long-range community plans. Her specialty writing areas include land use, socioeconomics, and environmental justice sections for National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) documents.

For more information on SWEP, visit www.swepcolo.org